Kells Lawyers

Amy Harper is a mum of 2 boys, aged 3 and 5. She is a partner in the local law firm Kells and leads the firm's commercial and business law team, which comprises a team of 11 employees.

An experienced commercial lawyer, she is a Law Society Accredited Specialist in Business Law, only 1 of 6 women in New South Wales to hold that qualification.

She enjoys being able to contribute to the community she lives and works in through her involvement on various boards and committees, including as a director of Destination Wollongong, Deputy President of the Illawarra Business Chamber, a director of the Illawarra Performing Arts Centre, and as Councillor on the New South Wales Business Chamber Council.

She has also enjoyed being able to contribute to the growth and development of other local women through her role as a mentor with Mentor Walks Wollongong, and recently raised $22,000 for Cancer Council NSW by dancing (very badly) in front of 800 people in this year's Wollongong's Dance for Cancer...
