

Lauren Buhagiar

Lauren is the Owner and a Director of Active Property Conveyancing, an all female team of 8, specialising in residential conveyancing. Lauren attended St Mary's Star of the Sea College in Wollongong for her high school years and undertook the conveyancing course through Macquarie University.

Lauren grew up in Kanahooka with her family and worked at two law firms before opening Active Property Conveyancing in March 2008.

In February this year, Lauren applied for and won a scholarship to participate in the Advanced Leadership Course run by Women & Leadership Australia. Here she is learning about mindful leadership, building high performance teams and building resilience which she is bringing back into the office.

Lauren is a mother to two children and lives in Towradgi with her husband and family. She loves to exercise, travel and go to the beach in her spare time.

Lauren's business – Active Property Conveyancing

Active Property Conveyancing was founded in March 2008 by Lauren Buhagiar, and it has now grown to an all female team of 8.

Active Property Conveyancing has two offices, one in Wollongong and the other in Shellharbour City Centre and also offer a mobile conveyancing services whereby the Conveyancers attend on clients in their homes.

Active Property Conveyancing provide residential conveyancing services not only to the people of Illawarra but also state wide and pride ourselves in providing excellent customer service as well as helping the community in which we live, by donating $10.00 of our clients fees to one of five local charities.

In October 2016, Ammy Mangos who had been employed as a Licensed Conveyancer for 6 years by the firm joined the ranks as a Director.
