

Lube Markovski

From a child protection worker to the most profitable franchises in the country - to flipping burgers and now - business mentor.

Lube's story is one of constant challenges and learning.

He started off in the retail world when he acquired Shellharbour Square Florist in 1988. Then it was Granny May's in Warrawong in 1990, Sportsco in Wollongong in 1992, Glasshouse Tavern in 1997, Boost Juice Bars in Wollongong and Shellharbour in 2002, Nosh Cafe in Wollongong in 2005 and three Hairhouse Warehouse stores in Wollongong, Figtree and Shellharbour before Grill'd Wollongong and Shellharbour.

Lube has worked with Janine Allis - founder of boost juice bars - in growing the brand from 40 stores to over 200 nationally and internationally.

He has owned night clubs and race horses...

Lube will take us through his business and life journey sharing valuable lessons and insights into what makes a business great.
