

Maralyn Young

Maralyn is the owner of the multi award winning business Casamia Lingerie.

Maralyn has had success at many top awards, the IWIB Awards, winning Best Business for Casamia, and two years in a row the winning the IWIB Businesswomen of the Year. Two weeks after that she was named Small Business Champion Entrepreneur at the National Small business awards in Sydney.

These awards were in recognition for her success in business with Casamia Lingerie - where they specialize in fitting the fuller figure and women post mastectomy but for the community work Maralyn does to raise awareness about breast cancer and the importance of regular self-breast examination with her charity Breastaware Australia launched in 2013

Maralyn started her business career in 1975 in the arts and crafts industry and her creative ability aided her in reinventing herself many times over in the last 46 years to arrive where she is today with many an interesting story to tell along the way!
